

Committed bike/trike riders: Scott Saunders, John Porcari, Matt Guinane, Dwayne May, Kevin Fitzpatric (trying to get as far as he can go, Fairport to Weedsport, with his tricky knee) plus 3 others. Doesn't count Chuck Porcari and Tim Guinane driving SAG wagons (vehicles).

Expressed interest but not specifically committed yet: Armando Toppi (proposed riding electric), Matt Flanigan, plus 5 others.

Background Information and Training advice: Refer to "notes ride 2024.pdf" document that uses "Notes for Erie Canal Trail Ride 2024" page header.

Communication: When we are not riding, we'll all keep in touch by cell phone text message, to synchronize our evenings out and our mornings. Keep cell phones charged when not out on the trail, or out on the town.

Overnight bags: No suitcases please! For those riders staying overnight, one medium size soft sided overnight duffel bag or backpack can be transported during the ride day per rider, to next overnight location. In the morning (when riding another day), if rider is not at the same hotel as the SAG vehicles, it's up to the rider to attach their duffel bag to their bike and ride to our designated gathering spot that the days ride will launch from. The duffel bag can then be loaded into a SAG vehicle. Keep in mind that we ride in rain (but not lightning), so such bag carrying riders should pack an extra-large garbage bag to protect their duffel bag from getting wet, during short morning ride. Note that if riders are split between only two hotels, it might be possible (depending on that morning's timing) for one SAG vehicle to visit the other hotel to pick up bags, relieving riders of a short ride with their bag. We'll try to remain as flexible as possible with SAG deployment, relative to time and distance in the morning.

Lodging: New riders need to make their own overnight reservations!

Buffalo Vrbo/Expedia house reservation Friday 7/5: limited to my core group of riders, located at 127 Davey St, Buffalo, NY, 14206. New riders should find overnight accommodation on Vrbo or Airbnb in that neighborhood, or at hotel in downtown Buffalo further west (will be closer to morning bike detour route), and we'll designate a time/place to meet on bikes in the morning (7/6). Perhaps all new riders could make reservations at the same hotel, so they aren't scattered across Buffalo. Since I'm assembling the list of riders (and their emails), I could put them in touch with each other, for them to decide on one unified hotel location.

Medina Bunkhaus Hostel apartment reservation Saturday 7/6: limited to my core group of riders, owned by Hart House Hotel next-door at 511 West Avenue, Medina. New riders are advised to make reservation at Hart House Hotel. Once that is no-vacancy, next hotel in town is Comfort Inn & Suites in Medina, 11591 Maple Ridge Rd, Medina, NY, 14103. After that, it's Vrbo or Airbnb. Medina only has two hotels to choose rooms from, so make those reservations as soon as possible!!
